

ROUTE

- 1. Treptowers | The high rises look a bit lost there on the river's banks, and the "Sink Mediaspree" initiative hopes to keep it that way | An den Treptowers 3
- 2. Molecule Man | The 100-foot steel figures supposedly represent the reunification of East and West | Spreepromenade
- 3. MS Dr. Ingrid Wengler | A pitiful-looking wreck in the former GDR border-control port | Promenade at the Twintowers
- 4. MS Hoppetosse | Afternoon coffee or late-night party - the view of the Oberbaumbrücke is beautiful in any weather | Eichenstraße 4
- 5. Badeschiff | Topless in the summer, during the winter it's covered | November through March - sauna, heated pool; May through October - pool, beach | Eichenstraße 4
- 6. Hallentrödelmarkt Treptow | Indoor flea market | Saturdays and Sundays 10 am - 5 pm | Eichenstraße 4
- 7. Club der Visionäre | Dance and party outside by the water while waving to the café clientele across the canal | Am Flutgraben 1
- 8. Freischwimmer | Canal-side romanticism. Restaurant and "water lounge" | Am Schlesischen Graben 2a
- 9. Wachturm Typ BT 9 | The Wall is gone; only this watchtower still remains at its post on the death strip-cum-sunbathing lawn | Puschkinallee, Schlesischer Busch
- 10. Heinz Minki | The enclosed garden is one of Berlin's best spots for an outdoor beer | Vor dem Schlesischen Tor 3
- 11. Cake | A cozy flashback to the 1960s | Schlesische Straße 32
- 12. Myslivska | This bar is not a place but a state of being; accordingly, it doesn't open until 8 pm | Schlesische Straße 35
- 13. San Remo Upflamör | Music, café and the raised tracks of the U1 train - pure urban romanticism | Falckensteinstraße 46

TREPTOWER PARK WALK | Spree ahoi! Terra firma and wobbly planks

Stepping out of the Ringbahn at Treptower Park, one would hardly guess the paramount importance of the vicinity – for East German political history as well as the contemporary young Berlin and its "Easyjet-Set". Trend-seekers and techno freaks cross paths north of the station.

THE PROJECT

www.ringbahn.com takes a new look at the past and present of Berlin's Ringbahn, shedding light on technical, architectural, and everyday aspects. For those in the know, but especially for those just getting on board!
