

ROUTE

- 1. Bahnhof Südkreuz | A clock tower in a parking garage - the last relic of the old railway building from 1901, which withstood the construction of the new station | Suadicanistraße, Exit Parkhaus Süd
- 2. Weingewölbe | A small winery in a building that once served as barracks | General-Pape-Straße 30
- 3. Karunasom | Pacifism in practice: a Buddhist center and meditation institute in a former casern | General-Pape-Straße 30
- 4. Spez. Aal- und Fischräucherei Eleonore Krohnen | This family business has been smoking and selling fish since 1903 | General-Pape-Straße 52
- 5. Schwerbelastungskörper | The load-testing structure weighs 12,650 tons and was built to measure the Berlin ground's carrying capacity for Albert Speer's planned buildings for Germania | General-Pape-Straße 60
- 6. Gartenstadt "Neu-Tempelhof" | The parade and drill ground of the Prussian army was transformed into a garden city. The garden city is also known as Fliegerversiedlung, "Aviator Colony," with streets named after World War I aces | Manfred-von-Richtthofen-Straße
- 7. Katholische Pfarrkirche St. Judas Thaddäus | A wonderful church built of pink decorative concrete and turquoise mosaics, preserved just as architect Reinhard Hofbauer designed it in 1959 | Bäumerplan 23
- 8. Gedenkstätte Papestraße | Former SA prison | Werner-Voß-Damm 54a
- 9. NSG Schöneberger Südgelände | The interplay between nature and decaying railroad relics, industrialization and art, is wonderfully unique | Prellerweg 35
- 10. Lokhalle | Today the former locomotive hall is a gallery and educational center for young people | NSG Südgelände

SÜDKREUZ WALK | Secrets of the south

Where Speer planned a giant train station for a direct connection to Moscow is today gathering grounds for all those lovers of Swedish furniture. The nearby Südgelände unites nature and modern art amid the rusty tracks.

THE PROJECT

www.ringbahn.com takes a new look at the past and present of Berlin's Ringbahn, shedding light on technical, architectural, and everyday aspects. For those in the know, but especially for those just getting on board!
